Weekly newsletter from 24 – 28 March 2014

Dear Members,

We always give importance to our weekly newsletter, and especially the first page, because it provides a path to the future and helps us get prepared. We know that most of you must read our weekly newsletter very carefully but once again I would like to remind you to read these first two pages very carefully.

Last week metals and soft commodities suffered. On the other hand S&P remained in a mixed trend but gained value after opening lower on Monday. Dollar Index finally gained during last week from the predicted price of 79.50. We always recommend our investors to watch our astro level closely because these levels can give great buying or selling opportunities. In early 2008 when dollar index was trading around 73.00, many called it the death of dollar but we firmly stood with our prediction of USD Index not going below 72.00 in any circumstance. Dollar index moved from that level to 88.00 in six months. Many were predicting that Euro will be going towards 1.75 to 2.00 however it fell sharply from 1.55. We were able to predict many other bottoms and tops for many markets and these levels have proven to be great trading points if we look back at them now. Today we would like to put a few predictions that came right here.

1. In 2001 we predicted gold not going below $270, silver $4.00, copper $0.60, oil $15.00. These commodities were trading around these levels when we came out with the prediction of buying as we saw an era of commodities coming. In the last 13 years these commodities have done amazingly well.
2. In 2001 astro indicators gave clear indications that Euro was not going to go below 0.82 level. At the same time we also predicted that it would reach 1.38. I still can't believe how we predicted this one because if then I was a chartist or an economist I wouldn't have made this prediction.
3. In 2003 we predicted buying Nasdaq and tech stocks as we predicted that the fall would stop and that buyers would make fortunes in frontline stocks.
4. In early 2008 we predicted a crash in commodities, the stock and housing market but we feel that the buying recommendation we gave in March 2009 was more important. I hate my predictions of 2008 housing, market & commodity crash because many of my close friends lost a tremendous amount of money; many people lost their home's; and even though our prediction came true, we hate to talk about it because of the pain that it caused. We give more importance to the prediction of 26 Feb 2009 of buying DOW around 6700, and predicted it would reach 32000.

I don't want to talk about the many other hundreds of predictions because I want to continue from where we ended on the last paragraph of Dow reaching 32000. Dow moved from 6700 to 16000, halfway away from our higher side target of 32000. In 2001 September, during the European crises we clearly saw that S&P won't trade below 1090 as the major astro cycle was changing and that cycle was showing encouraging signs far better than those of any previous bull market in the last 120 years. From September to December 2011 in every week's newsletter we were only saying one thing "USA's unique era has started! Invest in US stocks and assets as S&P will go towards 3200 from 1100". Many were very upset and started asking us to stop promoting USA.

If I read all the emails that I received in 2011 and 2012 it would clearly show that most of our gold or metals investors were very unhappy with our advice of investing in US stocks rather than recommending buying gold. Anyway's, metals investors have not done that well compared to stock investors and this matters to us because we want to advise correctly without any personal likes, dislikes, or without worrying about which member will unsubscribe our services because of what we predicted. It also happened that a few of our republican members unsubscribed our services when we predicted that OBAMA would win the elections for both terms. It is the people's choice. I am not trying to make anyone happy because at the end of the day or on the last day of my life, when I look back at the work I have done, I want to feel good about it and know that I have done the right thing in my life. Just to note, we did predict the victory for Sr. Bush. I never able to predict Jr Bush/Gore as I stated, it was too close a call to predict.

Now many short sellers are doing the same thing. I receive many emails regarding a great crash since the last year. We still strongly believe that the most unique era of USA has started after meltdown of 2008. Policymakers have made the right decisions and the country is slowly coming back and building an even more solid foundation. In end of 2007 and early 2008 we saw the world financial market melting down. Many banks were closing down, a crash in the housing market, and global financial system crumbling. I knew that the crisis would be so severe that world wouldn't be able to handle it (This horrible astro cycle was to remain for a year. Started on the 15th February 2008 and was supposed to end on 5th March 2009). It was a long period but all thanks goes to Mr. Ben Bernanke and policy makers for assisting in alleviating the crisis. Of course once the positive astro cycle was about to start, we started making big noise about buying because we knew that a new era was starting from there.

We strongly recommend economists and analyst to change their valuation calculations for hundreds of US as well as global leading companies because these companies have changed the face of this world. Their contribution to shaping this world is enormous. Tech, emerging and healthcare field has done an amazing job. Many of these companies are trading relatively cheaply compared to their input, and thus Saturn can push their valuations very high. It did it for the tech market during the three year cycle from 1996-1999. I was able to predict the tech bubble and crash because I knew that the tech bubble would only remain for a short period of three years. Now this rising market era is not for the short period. The market bottomed out in 2009 February and entered the rising path from the end of 2011. This rising cycle will adopt and turn into a "belief cycle" where many will believe that fall is limited in market. This belief cycle will turn into a "Euphoria cycle" in which everyone will get excited, and then final cycle which we call "I know everything cycle", people will think that they know everything and that will be end of it. According my astro data the market may take three years and two months to reach the level where I will call the exit from all positions and ask everyone to then enjoy life. You have to respect your life, money making is part of life and respecting, understanding and enjoying are also parts of life. Life should not be in imbalance so one should watch their daily routine. Yes, you can make money in three years but don't forget what I said would happen after this era.

From 2001 to 2006 metals investors respected my work so much but after that they sounded like they knew everything more than everyone. In 2008 when metals and metal stocks crash many lost almost everything. I want you to respect the current market trend because it is a bullish trend, and the day you feel that you know too much about this market will be the day one should quit and learn something else. We predicted that 3200 S&P will be right day to quit. A time will come when S&P will move 50 to 100 points in a day, and that will be the time to cash in. In 2002 I told Bill Murphy that the time is coming when gold would move $50 to $80 and silver $1 to $2 in day and he was not able to believe me because gold was only moving a few dollar in day during that period and silver a few cents.

Anyways' here are few important levels:

S&P will hold 1772 on lower side for medium and longer term

Dollar Index down side 79.50 is major astro support level

Coffee support level will be $142

Nasdaq will hold 3457 on lower side in worst case scenario

Major astro resistance level for gold 1377 and 1451 won't able to cross in the next four months and down side support level will be $11.39 as predicted last year, if its break than it will reach to $971.

We will talk more about this during next week. This week I will put a small brief about the weekly trend here.

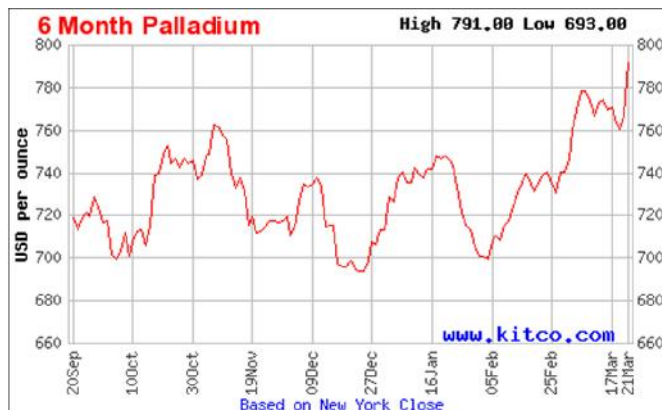

This Weeks newsletter from 24-28 March 2014

GOLD/SILVER/BASE METALS

In the last eighteen months overall our advice of avoiding metals and metals stocks has done well. Last week we predicted that gold would top out around $1377 which has so far proven right as gold prices came down and made a low of $1321. Our selling recommendations in precious metals as well as DUST and GLL has done very well during last week. This week we see a mixed trend on Monday and during the first half of Tuesday due to Moon transiting through Sagittarius and historic astro data as well as market data confirms that Moon in Sagittarius supports precious metals. Whenever in past precious metals traded weaker on Sagittarius moon it brought a 20% fall in metals in one month “which represents a total of 12 zodiac moon cycles”. Only 1% of the time has precious metals traded negatively during a Sagittarius Moon. Surely you have read other astro combinations with New moon and Full moon cycles. As predicted from last year that from 2014 July gold and silver prices would move higher but before that an uncertain time cycle will remain so there is no need to buy.

From Wednesday onwards a weaker trend will continue so any rise should be taken as a selling opportunity. On Thursday and Friday the same kind of trend will continue.

In base metals copper fell as predicted and more weakness is still pending. In the last six months our constant buying recommendations in Palladium has done well. We see Palladium doing well in the coming time. Three months ago as well as last month we predicted on a Kitco.com interview that Palladium will move towards $1000, and we still see that happening no matter where gold, silver, copper or platinum goes because the astro chart of Palladium has been showing a very bullish trend since the last 9 months. As per the astro cycle we are not recommending buying copper during this week. Any rise should be taken as a selling opportunity. Platinum will trade mixed to weaker but Palladium will make a new high so hold your buying positions. In the last four years palladium done very well, here is chart.

Watch Palladium stocks like SWC, PAL, and PALL:

Here is Monday's range: (May 2014 contract):

GOLD: $1343.90 to $1324.10 (April) Trade in and out

SILVER: $20.53 TO $20.12 Trade in and out

COPPER: $299.10 TO $293.30 Hold short

PALLADIUM: $781.00 TO $780.80 Hold buying

PLATINUM: $1447.00 TO $1430.00

INDEXES

Last week globally the market traded mixed. USA market once again went towards a high on Friday but came down due to options expiry "Triple Witching day". Last Monday the electronic market opened sharply lower and touched our lower side predicted target of 1824 on the Crimea Issue where we recommended strong buying and that buying has proven very prudent. We also mentioned that traders should be buying on the Crimea issue rather than selling. This is what we mentioned last week: In the last 28 months every correction has proven to be a great buying opportunity, and even last month when S&P went to 1764, it was a great buying opportunity and we told all our members to buy S&P around 1770. S&P moved almost 120 points from that low; and in fact it touched a historic high calmly without showing any signs of euphoria.

We are not concerned about valuations because at this stage the astro cycle not showing any signs of negativity for the medium and longer term. In 2001 we predicted a rise in gold for 48 years. We divided the rising cycle into nine sub cycles. The first cycle ended in July 2008 (2001-2008), the second ended in May 2012 (2009-2012) and the third cycle (from third quarter 2014 to 2016) and the remaining six cycles with different astro combinations. This current rising cycle of the stock market will last for another three years before it cracks big. Once again we would like to remind you that we are not in a bubble pattern or euphoria time in the market because in euphoria at the final stage we will see S&P moving 100 points in a day. Many day traders will either go broke or will make a fortune. When Mars will join the North Node in the house of Leo and when the Sun will cross over Saturn's house it will bring an end to the bull market. I don't like to discuss astro combinations because my job is to provide you with the overall trend of the market.

As volatility arrived last week in the market, many are concerned but we take it as a healthy correction before June contract gets active. The market has historically always collapsed either in March or October "Due to Sun transit" and we have always experienced some kind of Volatility in these two months.

At this stage the market is taking the Crimea issue seriously so volatility is bound to happen because the Moon will also be transiting over Mars+Saturn+North-node, also Moon will be moving in Scorpio on Friday.

If you ask me when the most aggressive rising cycle is coming in market; my answer is from 2 June 2014 and this cycle can move up constantly for many months without taking any break. At this stage one should make a strategy of trading in and out as per our daily ranges but many stocks will move higher from here onwards so focus on these selective stocks rather than Indexes.

Commodities will trade mixed, and many are watching the fall of copper closely. On the other hand gold keeps moving higher. It breached the most important astro resistance level of $1377 but we doubt that it will close above this level for three days. A great buying opportunity in silver and gold will come in the last quarter of 2014.

Last week oil and grains went down, and soft commodities also fell on profit booking. Sugar fell more than 6% in the last two trading days.

Dollar is holding value around 79.50 and Treasury bond gained some value on weakness of the market.

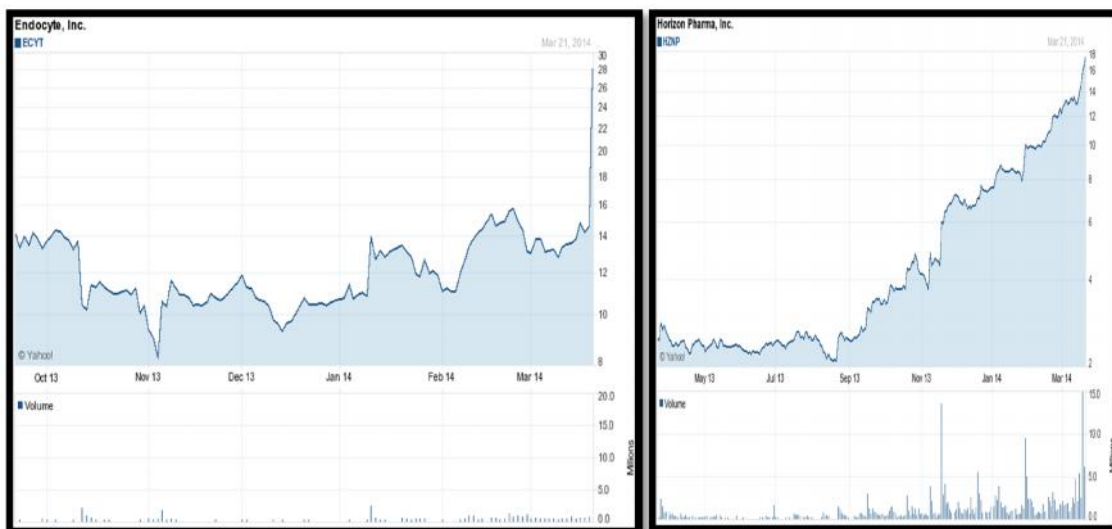

USA astro chart keeps showing strength so the economy, stocks and the housing market will keep outperforming. The rest of the world market will underperform except India, so keep adding money in USA and India. S&P will touch 3200 in the coming two years, and it may move towards even 5000 in euphoria before it crashes. If you focus on the short term happenings in the market you will not be able to make money in the next three years, so keep the longer term picture in mind.

Let people short the market; let them speak negatively about the USA market; let people argue about valuations; let them say that this is a bubble; and let them say that a big crash is coming because we are not worried. We don't want to hear this as our astro cycle is clearly indicating that the markets are ready for new higher prices. The markets are already nearer to a historic high, and market leaders are sitting very quietly and you will see fireworks once these stocks start moving higher. Our target for Apple is $1500, Amazon $700, Google $1800, Bank of America $35, JP Morgan $100, BIIB and REGN $1000. Many other stocks will move higher because they have been staying on the sidelines, so this is a great time to pick up stocks.

This week on Monday the markets may trade mixed to trading on both sides but we don't see any major negativity so if markets open negative then you should buy. Avoid or ignore any news from Crimea and China, and put energy into building up stock positions.

Yes, last week the market traded very interestingly. This week we strongly recommend accumulating positions in stocks. Last week buying recommendations in Microsoft did very well, and now Apple, Amazon, and EBAY's time is starting. Many banking, financial, housing and biotech names will keep moving higher so don't miss the opportunity to accumulate stocks. We still recommend holding HZNP, ECT, REGN, FCEL and BLDP. HZNP, ECT and FCEL done very well in the last five months. Among international markets, the Indian market has done very well. We recommended buying ETF's and Indian ADR's here in USA which also provided between 10 to 25% returns in the last month. This week looks mixed for the Indian market as well as the rest of other worlds market so wait and watch, and if you like to add new positions, you can.

European and Asian market will remain in an uncertain zone on Monday and Tuesday but from Thursday onwards a huge upside move will come in the market. You should also remember that the first quarter is ending next week so traders and fund managers would like to close the books on a positive note.

USA market will keep outperforming the world market. Last week S&P struggled to close above 1864 for three days which is a bit negative but also the down side will remain limited. Monday and Tuesday will remain mixed for the market and we see S&P holding well above 1836 or 1824 so take a buying opportunity if the market comes to these levels.

Nasdaq looks very interesting around 3612 level. This astro level is important, and we don't see Nasdaq doing below 3557 in any circumstances so any weakness should be taken as a buying opportunity. Russell outperformed S&P and Nasdaq in the last month and we still see Russell outperforming both these indexes in the medium and longer term so keep adding Russell on any weakness. Those who are not comfortable with the short term trend should keep adding Call options positions.

From Wednesday mid-day the market should start turning up side and on Thursday the market will move higher so buy on any weakness on Wednesday. On Friday also the markets will close higher.

Follow S&P if you trade or invest in any other international markets. Our European and Asian investors should follow S&P's trend as well. Indian market story looks different so don't short Nifty at all at any point.

Avoid commodity leverage markets, because the overall trend of commodities looks negative for the next three months.

Here is Monday's ranges: (June contracts)

AUSTRALIAN (Cash) – 5348 to 5315

NIKKEI (Sep) – 14750 TO 14320

NIFTY S&P (Spot) – 6521 to 6445

SINGAPORE (cash) – 3083 TO 3065

HONG KONG (cash) – 21459 to 21259

CAC – 4239 TO 4200

DAX – 9390 TO 9283

DEX EURO STOXX – 3035 - 2988

FTSE – 6519 TO 6448

FTSE/JSE – 41965 to 41430

S&P – 1866.75 TO 1846.75

NASDAQ – 3668.50 TO 3612.25

RUSSELL – 1196.00 TO 1178.00

DOW – 16320 TO 16151

TREASURY BOND

In the last 12 years we were able to catch every move of thirty year bond. Five years ago we predicted thirty year to reach 150, and once it reached there early last year we predicted a fall with the target of 130 and it got achieved in same calendar year. Buying S&P and on other hand selling Yen and Thirty year bond trading call in 2013 remained the best strategy. At this stage our major targets got fulfilled so we are not recommending any major trading positions in thirty year bond but surely this week we may see some positive trend coming as predicted last week, so the down side will remain limited in thirty year bond.

Buying on weakness is recommended with strict stop-loss and on the higher side we don't see it moving above 136 in any case so take this selling opportunity. On Monday and Tuesday we see some positivity. One can sell back or book profit on mid Wednesday as prices will come back down on Thursday and Friday.

Monday trading range (June contract):

TREASURY BOND – 133-02 TO 132.08

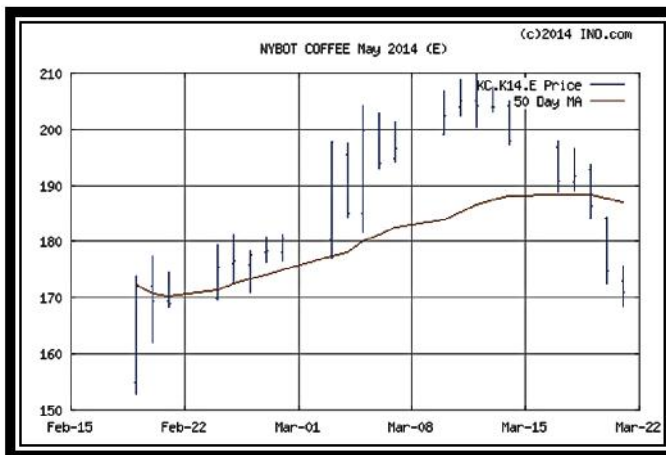

SOFT COMMODITIES

Last week remained the best performing week for selling in soft commodities, especially coffee and sugar. Our predictions of selling coffee around $212 proved to be a prudent selling call. Coffee prices came down from $212 to $168, and those who trade commodities are aware that how much money can be made in this kind of a move. We don't recommend speculative futures positions trade so we recommended buying puts of May at $177, which went up from $1.60 to $11.00 (coffee is 3.75 times more leveraged than future contracts of gold). Anyway's, many of traders were very happy with our recommendations of put options trade.

Three months back we stated that we don't see coffee going below $102, and we recommended buying with target of $400 due to frost but prices started going up due to drought. In last year's book we mentioned that a horrible drought and frost is indicating in 2014. One of the big Physical coffee buyers "Mr. Ralph" from Switzerland couldn't believe what we mentioned last year. At this stage one can start buying call options in coffee when it reaches $159 level.

Avoid the rest of the soft commodities for the first three days, but surely Thursday and Friday are positive days for soft commodities so one can cover shorts on early morning Thursday. One can take small buying in Call options in coffee, sugar and cotton.

Avoid lumber, orange juice and cocoa at this stage.

Monday trading range: (May 2013 Contract)

COFFEE: $174.50 TO $167.05

COTTON: $92.80 TO $91.48

COCOA: $2970 TO $2928

SUGAR: $17.01 TO $16.55

GRAINS

Our buying recommendation in wheat and corn has done well, and it is time to book profit in wheat, and those who sold Soy and meal should hold their selling positions as we see more weakness coming from this week in Soy and meal.

Buy some put options in Wheat, soy and meal but hold buying positions in corn. We see a ten percent fall in soy, meal, and wheat from current levels and at the same time corn buying can be used as a hedging trade. This week some buying will come in grains on late Tuesday and Wednesday but take the selling opportunity as at higher levels, prices may not be able to hold.

Monday's trading range May 2013 contracts:

CORN: $483.50 TO $470.00 (buy)

WHEAT: $702.00 TO $780.50

SOY: $1427.00 TO $1395.00

SOY MEAL: $460.90 TO $448.00

SOY OIL: $41.60 TO $40.45

ENERGY

Our last week recommendations of trading in and out in oil did well. This week also the same kind of trend will continue so avoid medium term or either side trading positions in oil at this stage. RB gas, heating oil and natural gas will trade weaker from next week but this week they will trade mixed so follow our daily trading ranges of taking in and out trading positions.

As we mentioned last week that oil is holding $97.55 level on the down side and $102.39 on higher side, and this is an important range. It has to break on either side to get new directions because without breaking either side oil will remain stuck in these ranges.

On Monday the oil market will trade mixed but gas will lose more value. Some positive trend in energy will start from late Wednesday and this rising trend will continue on Thursday and Friday.

Energy stocks will move up from Wednesday so buy on weakness in front line energy stocks.

Monday's trading range (ALL May 2014 contracts):

OIL: $100.09 to $98.50

NATURAL GAS: $4.35 to $4.21

HEATING OIL: $2.9410 TO $2.9000 (April)

RB GAS: $2.9320 TO $2.8860 (April)

CURRENCIES

In the last week of December we predicted that on 17 March 2014 US Dollar index would bottom out, and it surprised us as Dollar bottomed out on the same day without delayed. Since the last six months we have been predicting a great buying level in USD around 79.50 and that has also proven very right. Both these indications are clearly giving signals that USD is ready to start the most exciting journey. It is important that USD starts rising now to support S&P's trend though many economist don't agree with this because they think that a weaker USD earns more money from exports. Anyway's, whatever USD has to do it will do and our strategy is very clear of buying USD on any weakness so don't miss this opportunity.

Japanese Yen predictions have done amazingly well in the last 18 months, and we strongly recommended selling around 1.33 and targeted 0.95 which achieved early last year and since then it has been trading sideways as predicted. At this stage we strongly recommend trading in and out rather than taking any side trade. During this week we may see some positive moves in Yen but the higher side will remain limited so watch our daily trading ranges closely in Yen for day trading.

Emerging market currencies have been trading positively as predicted. Last year most of our calls of selling emerging market did very well. Now these currencies will trade sideways without any major movement so trading in and out will be the right strategy. Selling dollar around 65.00 in Indian Rupee terms has done well. Currently it is trading around 61.20. Avoid any major speculative trading in emerging market currencies at this stage until we see some major move.

Euro and Swiss Franc are trading at the most dangerous level, and both these currencies can hold around the current level but not many weeks are pending so one should start buying USD against both these currencies. As higher side risk is only 1% and there is a lot to gain on the down side one can buy call options in USD or buy puts in Euro and Swiss Franc which will provide great returns in 2014.

Pound, Australian and Canadian dollar will trade mixed during this week from Wednesday. On Monday and Tuesday Pound will trade weaker. Australian dollar may try to move higher but it will fail so trade carefully.

This is what we have been mentioning for so many months so take trades around these levels: Keep adding USD on any weaknesses on Tuesday or around 79.50. Sell Euro around 1.3888, Pound around 1.6820, and Swiss Franc at 1.1470. Emerging market currencies will trade a bit weaker or sideways from Tuesday. We strongly recommend taking some buying positions in USD around 79.50.

In the next five years we see euro dropping toward 0.80 to 0.50, and Swiss franc will follow Euro. Pound will remain stable compared to both these currencies and Australian dollar will collapse towards half value. Canadian dollar will trade better than Australian dollar but emerging market currencies will perform well against most currencies except USD. In brief, Yen, Euro, Swiss Franc and Australian dollar will lose 50% value from current levels. Watch this prediction closely as a great amount of money can be made in these trades.

Monday's trading range: (June contract)

DOLLAR INDEX – 80.51 to 80.11

AUSTRALIAN DOLLAR – 0.9068 to 0.8987

CANADIAN DOLLAR – 0.8935 to 0.8839

BRITISH POUND – 1.6525 to 1.6421

EURO – 1.3820 to 1.3735

JAPANESE YEN – 0.9830 to 0.9750

SWISS FRANC – 1.1355 to 1.1283

RUPPEE – 61.30 to 60.80 (Spot)

RAND – 10.97 to 10.80 (Spot)

Trade safely, please mediate so you can hear yourself very clearly. Do something good for yourself/your family/your friends and loves one's. We don't know how many months, years or decades are pending in our life so life so cherish your every-day. Nature has given us free air to breath; nature provides us with water; the Sun provides us with light and heat and the earth give us space to live and grow food so please respect nature.
