Friday's Flash-news (Unedited)

Dear Members,

On Thursday once again, the US market traded directionless after sharp declining for the last three days but international market specially emerging markets remained on fire. At this stage emerging market ignoring uncertain trend of US and European market which is great encouraging indications. We constantly recommended buying in emerging market since last one month in our daily and weekly letter. Sifting of Jupiter is very close which indicate that China and India will take lead role in coming time. We will write about this in next week newsletter.

Gold break below $1300 as predicted, it fell more than $100 in the last two weeks without any major headline. Oil is moving ahead slowly and grains too but we still doubt grains move. Dollar is holding well and everyone will be watching ECB.

Today once again S&P held 1834 level very well, it is important one and bull trend in equity is intact until S&P hold this level.

It looks like S&P will have a difficult time cross the 1864 level and the down side will hold 1836 or not. According to our astro theory, S&P will hold 1834, and at this stage, it clearly looks like it won't fall below 1824. In our weekly newsletter, we mentioned that Wednesday will be a great day for buying as we expected weaker trends in early this week and we are sure you must have taken some buying positions. On Thursday and Friday, we see a strong momentum setting up with forming lows, so don't opportunity of buying in S&P, DOW, NASDAQ and Russell.

Today, two tech IPOs opened sharply lower because retailers are not very attracted to buy any junk companies, which is a great sign of maturity. In 1999 and early 2000, the market flooded with IPO's and bankers as well as investors, who were putting their money in any companies to become overnight millionaire, they lost hard earn money. Today's actions in the market is very healthy because the more it spends time here, the more powerful the trends will develop in the market in the coming time.

This is what we mentioned yesterday and hold same predictions: International market will trade higher, avoid any shorts in emerging market like India, China and Brazil as these markets will remain on fire. Indian market have been performing amazingly well and it will keep moving higher. Bullish trend in equity will remain intact until S&P remains above 1834.

This is what we mentioned yesterday: We strongly recommend watching the market closely as it may have been trading in the range of 1750 to 1865 since the 10th of October, which means that since the last five months, the market is hanging around the 120 point range, which clearly indicates that something big is about to begin.

S&P's new astro support point is 1834 and the higher side can easily move another three percent.

Here are the trading ranges and strategies for Friday:

METALS

On Thursday once again precious metals went down as predicted. Base metals remained directionless. Gold came down $100 in two weeks, our advice to stay away from it proven money saving for buyers. It will be interesting to watch that gold close below $1280 or not because it is most important astro support level and once it break then we may see $1168.

On Friday it will make low and may rebound so cover around 60% positions and book more profit in DUST as well.

This is what we mentioned yesterday: We are not recommending any buying in precious metals as a hedging trade against stock market falling but surely one can book at least 30% profit those who hold gold around higher side during this month. We are not recommending any buying in metal stocks as these stocks may fall hard.

Today DUST gained another 13%, book 50% profit and hold 50% positions in it. In the last 11 trading it gained almost 50%. Selling metals and buying DUST remain one of the best short term call.

Thursday base metals will trade negative but precious metals will remain in weaker directions so avoid any buying positions. If gold close below $1300 then expect $1245 during next week.

This is what we mentioned two weeks back Wednesday: Last week we predicted the end of the positive trend in metals on the 14th of March, and that has proven to be accurate so far, as precious metals opened positive, but closed lower. We still recommend staying away and selling on any rise in precious metals. Gold fell from $1392 to $1320 and metal stocks suffered badly. Avoid metal stocks at this stage as a sudden fall time has arrived. Final note: Don't buy metals because of the Crimea news.

Here is Friday's range: (May 2014 contract):

GOLD: $1301.20 to $1286.10 (April) Trade in and out

SILVER: $19.81 TO $19.51 Trade in and out

COPPER: $302.90 TO $296.10 Hold short

PALLADIUM: $774.00 TO $751.80

PLATINUM: $1410.00 TO $1388.00

INDEXES

Once again on Thursday most of world market closed higher but US market remained in uncertain trend on fourth day of row. Many high flying as well as big name from biotech and technology have corrected around 20% but on other hand markets is just 2% away from historic high which clearly tells us markets are ready to move higher without these highflying name. It means that oldies and frontline stocks will lead this rally so start accumulate stocks.

Also many great biotech and tech companies have corrected enough so don't miss buying these companies on Friday. S&P is holding well around 1834 which is great sign, hold your investment until S&P holds 1834 level.

This is what we mentioned yesterday: S&P is not able to hold 1868 level which is clearly indicating weaker trend in market but same time we don't see S&P going below 1834 so what our lower side range very carefully because it can provide us great buying opportunity.

In our this week's weekly newsletter we recommended buying on late Wednesday on weakness as we saw some weaker trend that is why we advised to stay away on Monday and Tuesday. Anyway don't focus too much on market because many stocks looks great buy around current level so don't miss opportunity of buying.

Emerging market, Chinese market and Chinese ADR looks great bet here, Buy Chinese ETF from today. Our astro cycle is telling us that now time to put money in Chinese stocks so don't miss opportunity from today. YINN is ultra long Chinese etf'. World markets will remain in bullish directions until S&P holds 1836.

Don't short Indian, China and Brazil as these market may gain continuously. Indian market outperformed global market as predicted, hold investment in Indian market. We are sure many of you must have done well in Indian stocks in ETF's.

This is what we mentioned Monday: Avoid commodity stocks as the commodity trend looks negative compared to the market trend. Keep adding quality stocks. S&P closed below 1864, which is a negative sign, but bull trends will remain intact until it is held at 1834.

Here is Friday's ranges: (June contracts)

AUSTRALIAN (Cash) – 5399 to 5339

NIKKEI (Sep) – 14750 TO 14320

NIFTY S&P (Spot) – 6690 to 6605

SINGAPORE (cash) – 3165 TO 3141

HONG KONG (cash) – 21989 to 21809

CAC – 4305 TO 4250

DAX – 9498 TO 9402

DEX EURO STOXX – 3083 - 3042

FTSE – 6555 TO 6490

FTSE/JSE – 42955 to 42422

S&P – 1852.00 TO 1835.25

NASDAQ – 3580.50 TO 3535.25

RUSSELL – 1160.00 TO 1140.00

DOW – 16259 TO 16055

TREASURY BOND

Bond prices gained on Thursday, one can take some buying positions in thirty year bond but book profit if its reaches $135 to 136. This rally will be final one before it start falling toward new lows. This is what we mentioned on Monday: At this stage, thirty year bonds are holding values on the down side, which confirms that Bond prices may move up on Monday.

As we mentioned last week, 135 to 136 are good selling levels, and we still hold the same predictions.

The thirty year bonds traded mixed. 128 is a very strong astro support point which we predicted six months ago when we recommended selling at 150.

Friday trading range (June contract):

TREASURY BOND – 134-25 TO 133.21

SOFT COMMODITIES

Soft commodities traded mixed on Thursday and same kind of trend will continue on Friday. Avoid any buying these soft commodities.

Sugar prices moved higher as predicted yesterday: This is what we mentioned. Don't short sugar as it will hold some value at this stage. Safe side buying in coffee will around $159 to $147 and cotton around $87.00 level. Our recommendations of selling coffee around $212.3 done very well. If coffee breaks $171 then expect $158.

We are not changing any predictions of what we mentioned two weeks back on Wednesday: Finally it looks like that coffee will struggle to cross $212 at this stage so take buying opportunity in put options on any rise during this week. Rest of soft commodities will also trade mix, don't trade with future trade as they are too risky so plan your trade with calls and puts.

Friday trading range: (May 2013 Contract)

COFFEE: $178.90 TO $173.15

COTTON: $94.40 TO $91.55

SUGAR: $18.10 TO $17.57

GRAINS

Grain will start negative trend from Friday so sell on opening will be right strategy on Friday in soy, meal, and wheat. Hold buying positions in corn.

This is what we mentioned last Tuesday: Hold positions in corn, but sell soy and meal on any rise. Last week, soy and meal prices fell sharply from higher levels. Corn buying recommendations have done very well. Those who are holding selling in soy and meal should still hold onto them.

We don't see any major rise, so sell soy and meal on any rise. We are sure you must have book profit in wheat. Corn will hold value.

Trading in and out in grains remains the best strategy in the last 18 months.

Friday's trading range (May 2013 contracts)

CORN: $497.50 TO $487.00 (buy)

WHEAT: $723.00 TO $700.50

SOY: $1449.00 TO $1425.00

SOY MEAL: $473.90 TO $464.00

SOY OIL: $40.86 TO $40.19

ENERGY

On Thursday energy traded mix as predicted, we are still recommending trading in and out both side as per mentioned below trading range. At this stage trading in and out is highly recommended rather than taking any side trade.

This is what we mentioned on last Thursday: We still don't see any major trend in either side in energy so trading in and out in daily mentioned ranges will be good strategy at this stage until it breaks $97.19 or $102.39 levels. Energy stocks will gain some value.

Energy stocks will also move higher, so it's a great time to buy 3x ETF of oil and energy stocks on Tuesday.

Friday's trading range (ALL May 2014 contracts):

OIL: $102.19 to $100.25

NATURAL GAS: $4.61 to $4.41

HEATING OIL: $2.9630 TO $2.9200 (April)

RB GAS: $2.9620 TO $2.9320 (April)

CURRENCIES

Thursday once again USD remained in the tight range but trend was positive against leading currencies. Emerging market currencies traded mix to bit negative due to profit booking as these currencies have gained handsome value in the last three weeks.

Traders will be watching CPI from EU, our advice is still same, keep adding USD against Euro, Swiss Franc and Pound.

This is what we mentioned Tuesday: We are not changing any predictions for USD, in this week newsletter we mentioned that USD will rebound strongly from Wednesday so keep this prediction in mind. Dollar ready to gain at least 5% value against euro and franc in the next one month.

Don't miss buying in USD. This is what we mentioned last Monday: We don't see USD index trading below 79.50 for more than two days, so watch this prediction closely. It's a great time to buy Euro and Swiss Franc PUT OPTIONS of June, September and December 2014. USD may trade mix for some time before it explode on upside from 17 March 2014.

This is what we mentioning since last so many months: Keep adding USD on any weaknesses on Tuesday or around 79.50. Sell Euro around 1.3888, Pound around 1.6820, and Swiss Franc at 1.1470. Emerging market currencies will trade a bit weaker or sideways from Tuesday. We strongly recommend taking some buying positions in USD around 79.50.

Friday's trading range: (June contract)

DOLLAR INDEX – 80.45 to 80.10

AUSTRALIAN DOLLAR – 0.9250 to 0.9171

CANADIAN DOLLAR – 0.9084 to 0.9025

BRITISH POUND – 1.6648 to 1.6545

EURO – 1.3881 to 1.3690

JAPANESE YEN – 0.9825 to 0.9750

SWISS FRANC – 1.1325 to 1.1260

RUPPEE – 60.59 to 60.15 (Spot)

RAND – 10.50 to 10.45 (Spot)

Reading daily range: When we predict a weaker trend it means prices can break lower side and they can trade below predicted lows. (You can cover short but don't buy extra at lower levels until our indicators give buy signal).

When we predict a positive trend, means daily price can break upside and they can trade higher than predicted price (you can book profit but don't short that market).
