Weekly Newsletter from 3 - 7 October 2016

Elections out may take either S&P toward 3200 or 1100, read this week Newsletter very carefully

Dear Members,

last week's market actions and astro indicators are clearly telling us that we are about to enter the most exciting period of our life time. Though the Fed and other central banks would like everything to remain under control without hot bubble but sometimes the waves of nature are too powerful to control and that's how every euphoria been created in the past.

If we analyze the history of the markets behavior pattern and the role that the astro cycles play to give birth to the market behavior pattern, then 1929 to 1932 was the only year of destruction in the area of the financial market. That era was so nasty that it took the markets decades to reestablished itself and bring the faith of investors back. After that period, no such period of extreme negativity ever came again. Saturn was responsible for the 1929 crash, and one Saturn cycle lasts for 30 years, so it took the market 30 years to get back to 1929's high. Dow crossed 1929's high in the year 1959.

This was a depressed cycle and traders saw the worst market scenario. Traders are also forgetting about another similar cycle which occurred and it took the Dow 20 years to make a new high, and that was the period from 1965 to 1985. This was also a very sluggish time for the global markets. My theory will be available for everyone once I depart from this planet, and many experts will probably make my theory better or more accurate. Certain cycles are so predictable if we follow the astro cycles and we can see very clearly what is on the way. For example, the 2007/8 crash; we predicted this crash far in advance even though financial experts never talked about that prediction. Dr. W.D. Gann gained knowledge of astrology in India and he became one of the best market predictors and successful trader who actual fortune by following astro indicators. The media only gave him importance because he was putting out some mathematic numbers but his success was only due to understanding of astro cycles.

Let me tell you very honestly, predicting the markets trend is not only about mathematic numbers; you have to get a feeling or visualize whatever is coming. Once you get the feeling, then it is very easy to follow with an astro analysis.

Apart from the major depressed down cycles, all other falls or depressed trends never lasted. A few mini crashes happened in the last hundred years but even they did not last for more than two years. Examples of these were like the crashes in 1987, 2000 and 2008.

The Bull or bear market cycles are very unique and to predict a Bull/bear market is the most difficult job, but we have been very lucky to predict the three bull and two crash era's of last 24 years. The first one from 1996-1999; second from 2002-2006; and now the third from 2009-2017, or it can last to 2018, and bear market in 2000 and 2007/8.

The current market cycles are in a bullish pattern and investors who bought on any correction from 2009 onwards made money because the market kept gaining more value from every correction.

I read every members email, and a few members were asking me what will happen if Mr. Donald Trump becomes the President of the United States, and my simple answer is that I am very afraid to answer this question because if he does become the president, then things could become very ugly for the markets.

Though I don't do personal charts reading for people anymore, but I always read the charts of world leaders very carefully because their respective country's future is in their hands. A country is very much like a new born baby in that everything that happens to the baby is in the hands of the parents. If the baby is hungry and the parents are not tending to its needs like food, then the baby can die. It is the same way with the leader of a country, if they don't take care of the country with utmost care and consideration, then the country can suffer big way. The first example that comes to mind is that of Zimbabwe. In 1998 and 2001 we clearly stated that the people of Zimbabwe should remove Mugabe from office. If he remains in power for more time then the country will suffer drastically due to the negative astro chart of Mugabe, look at Zimbabwe now.

If you remember, then in 2008 we predicted that Obama and Clinton's astro charts are very powerful, we also predicted that a Democrat nominee would be the next president. Economic conditions would improve if Obama came into office and the economic conditions will be booming if Hillary becomes the president. We also predicted way before the election that the USA will either have its first black president or its first woman president.

In the last 35 years I only failed to predict accurate outcome of any predictions twice. I have made hundreds of geopolitical predictions regarding the elections or political leaders. For Bill Clinton we predicted that he would win the second term election but would have a major scandal and may not be able to remain at his post due to the scandal in the second term. We are all aware that his career hit by Monica's news, it was scandal but this prediction was only half true as he came through impeachment.

Most of you aware that after 9/11, I stop predicting about geopolitical events, except for a few predictions that I always make on any important event, like the elections in USA.

Trump and Hillary – let me first be very clear: Those who have been following my work for decades are aware that I don't include my personal likes or dislikes whenever I am making a prediction. I just simply predict what I see in my theory and that's the 100% truth.

I read Hillary’s Chart and I read Trump’s astro chart. The USA is the godfather for the world’s economy, and any drastic negative move in the USA economy can have a huge impact globally. I write every week about the financial markets trend for the short, medium, and longer term so I have to take elections outcome into account and it is my duty to make you aware of what I see in my theory about the election result, and the after affect.

In 2015 October when we were writing that book “2016 Financial Predictions” we made it very clear that Hillary Clinton would win the election and become the first woman president of the USA. But, let says I’m wrong in my predictions (which only happened twice in the past three decades), and Trump wins the elections, then I see a dark period for the USA and the financial market because of the negative astro chart of Trump which started from September 2016, and this negative cycle will last for Five years. Last year we already predicted that Trump shouldn’t fight the election as his negative astro chart will pull him towards the wrong direction, and that after the election his business empire would shrink drastically.

In 2009 February we predicted that S&P would hit 3200 when it was 680. Right now S&P is around trading around 2161. My prediction of S&P reaching 3200 will fail if Trump wins the election.

The negative astro combinations in Trump’s chart will bring a big crash in the equity market. S&P may test 1100 once again, and it will take S&P at least 9 years to come back to October 2016 levels. If Trump wins then Gold can move towards a historic high (we predicted gold prices to crash from October/Nov 2016 but if Trump comes then this predictions will come wrong) and dollar could move towards historic lows.

Geopolitically, the US’ commanding position may fall sharply and Russia and China may emerge in tie with the Middle-East. There could be a threat of war and the world may gather against the US due to Trump’s policies.

Trump’s astro chart turned very negative from September 2016, and it will turn so negative in 2017 that the US economic cycle will enter a cycle worse than the one during the 1929 depression. Under Trump everything will go in the wrong direction for the US due to his negative chart. If Trumps wins the election, then cash in everything and just enjoy life for the next five years without doing anything.

In 2006 we recommended the same. We recommended selling all investments in real-estate, selling stocks, and hold 100% cash because we saw a crash happening due to the negative astro chart of Bush. I said very clearly that Bush would take the economy, and the world in the wrong direction. I know it is difficult for the world to believe in this astro cycle theory in this new age of science and technology, but let me tell you, I believe in technology and this new world that we are advancing towards, but at the same time something else is there which inspires our thoughts. Something is there which gives us direction and vision. If our astro chart is powerful (If the day you are born had a very powerful geo-cosmic and astro combinations, then you will become an extraordinary person). Reading the astro cycle with new Moon and Full Moon is so unique. It can provide us with the complete in and out details. I hope that scientist start spending more time doing research about this subject.

I don't have anything against Trump, I don't know him personally, nor have I ever meet him. He never done anything wrong to me, so what I am predicting is purely what I see in his astro chart.

On the other hand, Hillary Clinton's astro chart is very positive so she will win the election and S&P will achieve 3200 or even 5000 under her presidency. Everything will prosperous in USA under her Presidency. Her astro chart is bit negative on her health side so she has to take care of her health from 15 September 2016 to 28 October 2016. This prediction is made on the 2nd of October.

My members are both Republicans and Democrats. Many of you may like Trump and my views may hurt your feeling's, so for that please forgive me. Today let me tell you one of my biggest secrets, and that is: I have never voted so far in any election, because if I vote for any candidate then my views can become biased. I know it is sad that I have never voted in my life, and I will never vote in the future either if I am predicting the outcome of that election.
