Weekly Newsletter from 18 – 22 September 2017

Index Fund and ETF's are heading on same path like housing market of 2007/8, there will be no buyers of these etfs and Index fund

Dear Members,

Last week, the markets held value, dollar rebounded, and oil gained value, grains also moved higher and coffee performed very well. Base metals went down sharply lower and precious metals traded negative as predicted. Thirty -Year bond remained in negative directions. Last week major volatility was witnessed in the currency market; Pound created some panic in the currency market as traders rushed to cover shorts. Most of predictions are going well except for the stock markets.

Once again, I did my astro homework and all astro combinations are still pointing to a major crash in the short term as well as chances of starting longer term bear market so let me discuss point by point:

1. If the market falls between 20 and 30% in the month of October then the bear market will get over by the middle of November and a great buying opportunity will come in the market by the end of November.
2. If the market falls 10 to 12% in October then the market may adopt a longer-term bear market which may continue for the next six years. No buying is recommended until 2023 in this case.
3. Markets are fully priced and most of the frontline stocks have achieved tops, and many key market leaders will fall around 50% from here and may not see the current prices for many years or even in decades so be aware. No investment is recommended in any stocks at this stage. We are recommending hedge fund and institutional traders to stay sideline or cash in. I don't have any answer at this stage on where to invest money from here onwards but once October is over then we may able to provide some investment ideas.
4. We already predicted that from 21st September 2017 onwards one more negative astro cycle will be added in the ongoing bear market cycle. The final worst cycle for the market will come from 12th October. We still believe that a massive fall in the market will come between 12th October to 30 October 2017. During these 18 days, the markets will crash unexpectedly by 20% or more. I still remember that no one on this planet predicted one of greatest bull market starting from 6 March 2009 but we did very loudly and clearly.
5. Dollar index is about to take major U turn, which would be also negative news for the USA market. Commodity stocks will also struggle which may not help market trend.
6. I am too much worried about Index fund and etfs which could bring disaster; investors won't able to cash if markets fall overnight and most people won't able to get out from index funds for decades. I am very serious in my note. I don't predict for fun, every prediction we make from astro cycle had valid reasons.

7. In the last two weeks Bitcoin collapsed sharply lower, and still major weakness can come so stay away from investing money anywhere.
8. The oncoming bear market may create a problem for the housing market and FED policy.

I know that at this stage, to sell historic crash in the market predictions have become very difficult for me because the market has been holding value since the last two months. Most of the markets are trading sideways since the last four months.

Every day we are receiving emails from members asking some questions again and again about the markets, and yes, I understand the concern but I am more concerned about myself coming wrong. Let's wait until 30th October 2017; if I fail in my predictions then I will answer all questions so let's wait and watch. Hold shorts in markets, hold positions in UVXY though it is trading far below our predicted support level.

Apple launched new iPhone; they have been fixing a few things and released a new device. A phone is becoming a commodity product now which is very dangerous for Apple. It looks like innovation is dying at Apple; there is no vision presented by Tim Cook in since Steve Job departed. The Eight Hundred-billion-dollar company is going in the most dangerous directions and I am concerned about the Apple stock. Also, I am very much concerned about Facebook and Netflix. Globally, nothing exciting is happening in business and the industry. At least Tesla's Musk talks about the future of the world and always talks about innovative ideas. Retailers have collapsed in the last three years; biotech stocks are struggling, and most sectors are trading without any clear directions. A few stocks in Defense are taking DOW higher. Beware as the biggest trap is taking in the market so stay away and hold sell positions in the market. Most of the markets will fall and they will fall suddenly without any warning signs. Hold cash and hold put options of short positions in markets.

FED will be announcing the rate decision; unclear FED directions can be a catalyst for the markets so selling is recommended in stocks and buying in recommended in USD after FED decisions or by end of the day. On Thursday, the real picture of the markets and dollar will be out, and it will be very negative for markets and dollar will run higher so get ready to take big bet after FED announcement.

Best trades:

Last week buying recommendations in coffee have done well, prices move from $129.80 to $142.70 in the five trading sessions. Next year, the target in coffee is $375 or higher which means that coffee is ready to move towards a historic high. US Dollar is around the bottom; buy aggressively on late Wednesday and sell more of currencies (read currency sections carefully). In my trading career, I made big money in coffee during 2004/5 bull market. Just now I got a flashback of 2001/2 about bullish comment of commodity and other financial areas.

In 2001/2 we made very interesting and amazing predictions:

We predicted gold moving from $271 to $1800, silver $4.35 to $50.00, copper $65.00 to $400, Platinum $400 to $2000 and Palladium from $175 to $750 levels. Coffee from $61 to $300, euro from 0.8200 to 1.3950, oil from $16.88 to $1000. We also recommended all members to buy natural resources stocks. Most of Gold and silver stocks were trading in cents, we recommended buying and predicted many stocks will move up with 10 to 100 folds which they did.

In 2001/2 our view was very bearish on dollar for seven years, in 2007/8 we recommended covering all shorts in dollar and selling most of currencies right at top. I know most of you were witnessed of these predictions. Who will forget our bearish call on market in 2007, we said that a “melt down in banking and housing sectors which would bring greatest crash in stock market”. And finally, in the last week of February 2009 it was one of the best predictions we made was buying market, we stated “go all in, even you sell hard assets and buy stocks for the next seven years”. Since that market never looked back.

I know how painful it was for me to read the email of one person who stated that “Mr. Sharma I wish I should have remain long in market by still trusting your longer-term target of 3200 if S&P”. Yes, I have been wrong on market predictions since last two months, I am not hiding my face but I still believe that the bear market will come and this bear market will teach greatest lessons to all bankers and financial institutions. We have another 41 days pending and we still see unexpected drastic fall in market will come from 12 October to 30 October. Fall can even take place later this week but that is the most powerful astro combinations of fall. I don't have ego, don't think that I want to prove myself right and that is the reason I have been predicting bearish trend, I don't have any ego and pride, I just predict what I see in my theory. Many times I have been wrong on short term time cycle but most of time every longer trend predictions came true so I will wait till last day of October.

Here is this week newsletter from 18-22 September;

GOLD/SILVER/BASE METALS

Last week gold and silver traded negative as predicted...

INDEXES

Last week, most of the markets traded mixed, but except for USA, the rest of the global markets failed to move towards a new high. In international markets, FSTI London lost big value on Thursday and Friday. Brazil and Indian markets tried to test all time all high. Dow tested its all-time high and S&P remained around its all-time high. September contracts expired without any major noise of move.

This week looks mixed for markets for the first two days but from Wednesday... On Thursday, major corrections in all major global markets will start so watch the market momentum from late Wednesday or Thursday.

On Friday...

THIRTY YEAR BOND

Last week Thirty Year bond came down from the higher sides. We are recommending trading in and out during this week. Watch 153-00 level closely as...

SOFT COMMODITIES

Last week coffee prices performed very well and cotton came down sharply lower as predicted. Sugar and cocoa held value on the lower side. Orange Juice and Lumber traded mixed as predicted. Our view...

GRAINS

Last week grains gained value as expected. Corn and soy oil struggled and will struggle...but wheat, meal and soy gained value as expected. This week also, we are not recommending any buying in corn and soy oil...

ENERGY

Last week oil prices gained value, and this week also oil will act stable or a bit positive on...

CURRENCIES

Dollar Index remained volatile during last week but held lower side value very well. Pound came in attention as it moved sharply higher and there are possibilities that it may achieve our predicted higher side level of 1.3778. Close all long in Pound around 1.3775 level, don't short in Pound at this stage but from Thursday one can take short positions in Pound. We have recommended buying around 1.2121 level with the target of 1.3375 to 1.3775 level and those who bought must have done very well.

The rest of the currencies also traded volatile....
